

Global logistics made simple – tailored to the defence industry

With almost three decades of experience transporting military and license-required equipment, Blue Water offers a vast insight in handling complex transport assignments.

As trusted supplier to several Ministries of Defence, we manage cross-border procurement transport, including sensitive and dangerous goods. From acquisition to arrival, our dedicated and proactive experts ensure timely and compliant deliveries that support your mission – wherever it takes you.

The world is complex – your logistics should not be.
Together we create solutions.

Global logistics made simple – tailored to the defence industry

We move with geographical expertise

NATO countries

Blue Water has handled numerous global contracts supporting national defence forces and the defence industry, transporting goods worldwide - including to and from Finland, Norway, UK, USA and Denmark.

Middle East

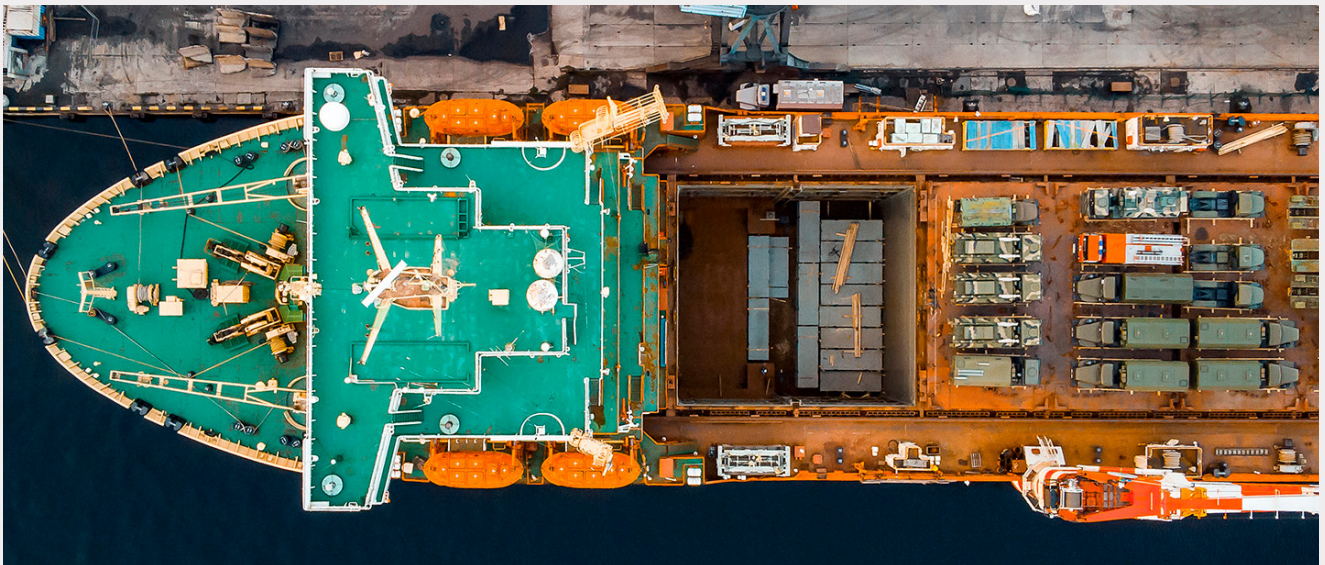

Since its establishment in 1991, Blue Water Middle East has created a reputable organisation with specialised employees to efficiently find solutions for our customers.

Africa

Over the past decade, Blue Water has arranged cargo transports to a wide range of African countries, and we have staff deployed on short or long-term contracts for project management.

North America

Located on the east coast of the USA, close to both Newark Airport and Port Elisabeth, Blue Water New York has a strong team dedicated to handling any defence logistics assignment.

Reference clients

Directly or through trusted business partners, Blue Water has handled government and defence logistics assignments for a wide range of NATO member states as well as for private contractors to governments and NGOs.

Handling high-risk cargo

We manage the transport, storage, and documentation of dangerous goods - including chemicals, fuels and explosives. Our team ensures full compliance with all international regulations.

Real-time insight

We transport defence cargo - equipment, personnel and supplies - with precision. Each mission is carefully planned, monitored in real time, and aligned with strict security standards.

Contact us

Email: global-sales-gdl@bws.net